

CofC PhilosoFest II

Friday, October 9th—Saturday October 10th

Tate Center, Room 202

PhilosoFest—a mini conference featuring CofC Philosophy faculty presenting their own research and keynote presentations by Prof. Susan Wolf of the University of North Carolina—Chapel Hill and Prof. Kristi Dotson of Michigan State University

Friday Keynote Presentation

Aesthetic Responsibility

Susan Wolf, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Saturday Keynote Presentation

A Road to Oblivion, Or Joe Scarborough on Michael Brown and Ferguson

Kristie Dotson, Michigan State University

Friday, 10/9

3:30—5:00: Susan Wolf
Aesthetic Responsibility

5:10—6:00: Jonathan Neufeld
Aesthetic Civil Disobedience

6:10—7:00: Sheridan Hough
Nietzsche, Epiphenomenalism, and “The Dangers of Consciousness”

7:30: Dinner

Saturday, 10/10

10:00—11:30: Kristie Dotson
A Road to Oblivion, Or Joe Scarborough on Michael Brown and Ferguson

11:40—12:30: Deborah Boyle
Margaret Cavendish and the Nature of Nature

12:45—1:45: Lunch

2:00—2:50: Richard Nunan
*Same-Sex Marriage and the Selective Application of Original Intent: Why
Even Clarence Thomas Should Avoid Originalism*

3:00—3:50: Larry Krasnoff
Moral Sentimentalism, Psychopathy, and Practical Reasoning